It is essential that you ask the bank teller to use your name as the payment description (so that we may identify your payment) and send an email to c3a.cyprus@jetnet.co.uk to advise us that you've paid.

Under no circumstances should members send cash in the post. C3A is not responsible for items lost in the mail.

You may also pay your annual membership renewal using online banking. However, you are strongly advised to check what charges their bank will impose for providing this service as some banks charge for on-line banking transactions.

You may also give your completed renewal form and renewal fee to a member of the C3A Committee (Group Leaders have been advised not to accept subscriptions.)
